Use Case Description of Availability Check:

To find the nearest vaccine facility, the user must enter their address and vaccine type into the app; after selecting the location, there is an option to verify availability. There are two sections here: first, if the vaccine is not available in the selected location, it will advise the user to choose another location and show when the vaccine will be available there; second, if the vaccine is available in the selected location, it will direct the user to the next phase, which is to schedule an appointment.
